++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
A murky start to Friday, skies clearing somewhat later on.

This Evening and Tonight:
After some evening clear spells, cloud begins to build across the region from the east, spreading over all areas overnight with low cloud and hill fog bringing drizzle in places. Breezy throughout. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Friday:
A cloudy day, with patchy drizzle and light rain possible throughout. Skies clear slightly from the southeast through the afternoon, bringing the odd brighter spell. Feeling cooler than recently. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Generally cloudy through this period, with occasional brighter spells. Light winds throughout and remaining largely dry, but the odd spell of patchy rain or drizzle is likely.
